A screenshot of a website interface designed to look like eBay. At the top left is the eBay logo. To its right is a navigation bar with links for 'Home', 'About us', 'Pay Balance', 'Community', and 'Site map'. Below these are buttons for 'Buy', 'Sell', 'Forums', 'My Auction', 'Stores', and 'Help'. A search bar with a 'Search' button and a link to 'Advanced Search' is also present. A welcome message says 'Welcome Guest! Sign in or Register'. Below this is a secondary search bar with a date 'Mon May 11, 04:03:19', a category dropdown set to 'All categories', and another 'Search' button. The main content area is divided into sections: 'Entertainment' with icons for 'Brain Training', 'Wii accessories', 'Singstar', 'Gamesbox', 'Gears of War', and 'PS3'; 'Easy Shopping' with 'Navigate! Online' (Sign in to buy, bid and sell) and 'Join Now!' (Registering is fast and free) buttons, a 'Shop! Now!' section with a 'Buy Now!' button and images of various electronics like Desktop PC, Wii, Bose, iPod Touch, Laptops, n95, and GPS; and 'Featured Items' with three product listings. The first listing is 'test' for £0.99, the second is 'mmmmmm' for $50.00, and the third is 'TEST5' for £0.99. A red octagonal 'CLONE STOP .COM' watermark is overlaid on the bottom right of the featured items section. A 'Categories' sidebar on the left lists various product categories with item counts.
